Change for Change

Two weeks ago the Little Lambs, with the help of our church family, raised $75.03 to be used to help children with school supplies. This past Sunday we had even more change given for this ministry! One mother told me her children raided their piggy banks to help—"a little child shall lead them" indeed. We had such a great response, we decided to continue to gather change to bless others.

Glory Gopinath has agreed to head up this wonderful ministry of Change for Change. She will guide the Little Lambs to a decision each month on how to spend the change that was donated the previous month. She will also work closely with our Social Ministry Team to decide how to use these funds. If you would like to help, just bring your loose change to church on any given Sunday and place it in the bottle in the Narthex.

What's My Line?

One of the longest-running game shows in prime-time network television, What's My Line? captivated audiences by having a panel of leading professionals ask contestants yes or no questions to determine their occupation. There was always a celebrity mystery guest, and panelists were required to don a blindfold while the celebs attempted to disguise their voices. The show ran from 1950 to 1967.

In the spirit of What's My Line we are starting a new feature in Flock Notes. From time to time we will introduce a member by sharing things about him or her that you may not know. This column is authored by my favorite author: A. N. Onymous.

The Renaissance Man

Can you name the person in this image portraying a Greek statue? He likes to be referred to as “The Renaissance Man” and his lifestyle certainly supports that moniker. Here are a few hints:

- He speaks Chinese (poorly) and has travelled extensively in that country.
- Before a recent health setback, he was the Number 2 rated senior race walker in the USA
- Born and raised in Kansas, with an accounting degree from Wichita State, he migrated around the country before landing in Tyler in the mid-80s.
- He started up a treadmill company with a plant on the northeast side of Tyler which he eventually sold to Nautilus Inc.
- He has three children, four grandchildren and a beautiful, supportive wife.
- He is an accomplished piano and organ player who sometimes subs for Jae.
- Affiliated with OSLC since the mid-80s he was instrumental in the education wing expansion in '95 and the remodeling of 2015-2019. The latter while serving as Council President.

He is truly a Renaissance man and his initials are BH. Who is this man?
